The document presented below is a restored version of a Newgrounds post I had made in 2024 under the username Florisgrad as it was presented then. It was not well written and was subject to criticism when it had been first released, but it was the only available information at the time.

I would like to note that before reading this document, I had been very upset with this revelation, so the language here is quite emotional. Please forgive this. I have also added a slight tidbit elsewhere in the document.

Hello, I'm ready to do the right thing and finally break my silence.
So @Nevazor has been spreading a fake claim about me since January 2024 saying I called her a nazi pedophile out of spite of her cutting contact with me which... wasn't true. She did reference it in a post here, and looking back at it now, she words it like I intentionally went out of my way to lie about her, and it costed me some "friends" who I thought would be understanding. And while I've admitted that I was wrong about what some of the things I said... I do have genuine proof of her being a pedophile (or at least into lolicon, same thing).
At first, I do reiterate the proof I used admittedly turned out to be really weak, but was really convincing for me. That changes now. In August, I got back into contact with her somehow and it devolved into her circlejerking against me to which she ended up blocking me. I searched on other platforms so I could mutually block her... and found her (now deleted) e621 account called "PastaDuck", where she had a ton of loli in her favorites.

I suspected it was her because not only did she upload her own art to the site, but the characters in the NSFW I've seen her share with me is very similar to the ones on this account (minus the loli).

I did include this screenshot last time I shared why I thought she was a pedophile, but if you look at the artist's name (Lolidog), and then see the art piece she uploaded on PastaDuck... that's the same character. I was told she commissioned the artist because she thought the art was "cute" and didn't know that they were an actual lolicon (LOL, it's like saying someone called Hitlerlover isn't a nazi).

Side note from the present: Nevada had cut contact with me due to my interactions with the Lolidog person I had met through her commissioning him. I had initially thought he was joking about it, but he was not. When I was 19 and Lolidog was 17, he had been trying to get me into loli and had pressured me into sending compromising photos of myself, associating with him and letting myself get played due to his friendship with Nevada was a mistake I regret to this very day. He tried to slander me when I cut contact with him, a pattern he has had a history of doing with other people when they got fed up with him.

This is despite the fact Nevada would later go on to ERP with much younger minors, as first she would date and ERP with a 15 year old from November 2023 (the time I had first suspected she might’ve been a pedophile, funnily enough) to January 2024 (around the time my accusations against her had first came out), she would not disclose this information with anyone and would tell the minor she had broken up with that partner before Nevada had dated the minor. She also admitted to her partner (who I will leave nameless to avoid any compromisations of privacy) in May 2024 that she had ERP'd with another minor that I was told by her friends she was drunk when she engaged and allegedly didn't know the minor was 14. Given Nevada's history with lolicon and her not disclosing the previous relationship with the 15 year old, I find this hard to believe.

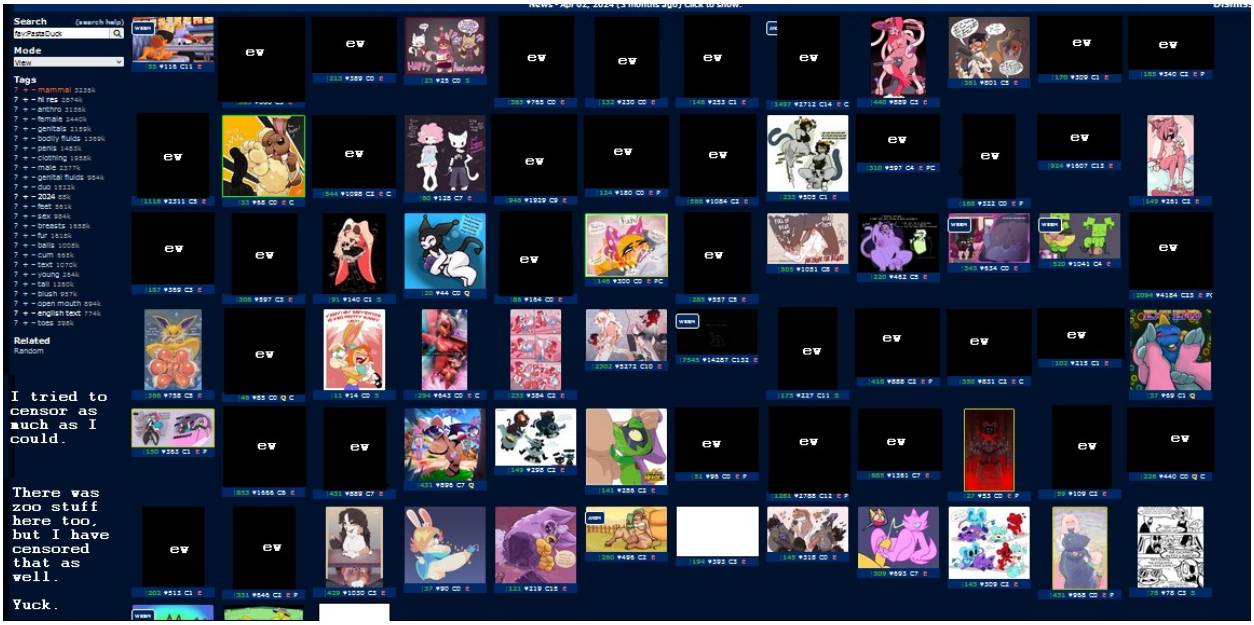
Okay, tidbit over, back to the document.



Right here was the perspective of a logged in account, which includes some really weird shit to begin with... but I've had to censor each post that had a character that was/looked like a child in it getting in sexual situations. (I've also had to censor feral art too.) I do have an archived link of a logged out perspective though.

If you don't believe me, that's fine, but here's something that really cements it. You know how earlier in the post I said this account was deleted? That's because I did something that really proved it was her. After the situation with her in August, I went back a few days later and changed the names in our DMs from her name to the account name (PastaDuck)... and within a week or so, she thankfully deleted the account.
I don't know why she deleted, either in fear of getting caught or she finally realized what she was doing was wrong (not to mention the fact she works at a daycare to my knowledge, I could be wrong though). Here's what happens if you try to search for the PastaDuck account now or the account's favorites:

Nothing shows up. It's gone. Disappeared without any trace. Again, I'm not sure why she deleted this, but I can't in good faith let this be swept under the rug. If anyone has been told I was lying... fucking LOL, To whoever is on my side, supporting me during this whole debacle, I thank you for your support. To whoever took the claims against me by Nevada saying I was purposely damaging her reputation, I am disappointed in you for taking her words at face value instead of doing your own research, and that I hope you've learned from this. As for Nevada herself? It's time for you to be more transparent with your friends and fanbase, unlike how you weren't with me. It's about time you've had that talk with your fans.
Genuinely, what a way to end the fucking year, LOL. Hope everyone has a great 2025.
